

Youth Theatre Directors wanted

Strange Town is a theatre company for 5-25 year olds in Edinburgh, performing new writing with our youth theatre and young company, as well as delivering schools projects: www.strangetown.org.uk

We are currently looking for experienced youth theatre directors to join our creative pool, with a view to working with us during the coming year Sep 2017-June 2018.

We are looking for practitioners who are experienced in leading drama workshops and directing large scale theatre productions (casts of up to 25) with children and young people aged 8-18. As Strange Town works primarily with new writing, experience in directing scripted work with young people is required.

PVG essential; this can be updated by Strange Town.

Rate of pay: £25 per hour (sessions are generally two hours, weekly, during term time)

If you would like to apply, please contact Ruth Hollyman at Strange Town info@strangetown.org.uk with a copy of your CV and covering letter, indicating your relevant directing experience.

Deadline for applications Wednesday 2nd August 5pm 2017
